

Please do not mess with or weaken New Jersey's strong Telephone Consumer Protection Act. Since I signed onto this, I have not been bothered by unnecessary calls that used to interrupt me continually from morning to night at least 6 days and nights a week. Anyone who wishes to sell me something can do so through my e-mail, and believe me, they do. I have enough trouble erasing these messages and do not want to have to deal with anyone on my phone regarding anything being sold or that has been sold to me. Once again, please do not weaken New Jersey's Telephone Consumer Protection Act. Thank you. Audrey Whiteman
